

POPE FRANCIS ANGELUS, 8 DECEMBER, 2021

Dear brothers and sisters, buongiorno!

The Gospel for today's Liturgy, the Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, brings us into the house of Nazareth, where she receives the angel's annunciation (cf. Lk 1:26-38). Within the domestic walls, a person reveals him or herself better than elsewhere. And it is precisely within that domestic intimacy that the Gospel gives us a detail that reveals the beauty of Mary's heart.

The angel calls her "full of grace". If she is full of grace, it means the Madonna is void of evil: she is without sin, Immaculate. Now, at the angel's greeting, Mary – the text says – is "greatly troubled" (Lk 1:29). She is not only surprised, but troubled. To receive grand greetings, honours and compliments sometimes brings the risk of provoking pride and presumption. Let us recall that Jesus is not gentle with those who go in search of greetings in the squares, adulation, visibility (cf. Lk 20:46). Mary, instead, does not exalt herself, but is troubled; rather than feeling pleased, she feels amazement. The angel's greeting seemed too grand for her. Why? Because she feels her littleness within, and that littleness, that humility attracts God's eyes.

Within the walls of the house of Nazareth, we thus see a marvellous characteristic of Mary's heart. How is Mary's heart? Having received the highest of compliments, she is troubled because she hears addressed to her what she has not attributed to herself. In fact, Mary does not credit prerogatives to herself, she does not hold claim to anything, she accounts nothing to her own merit. She is not self-satisfied, she does not exalt herself. For in her humility, she knows she receives everything from God. Therefore, free from herself, she is completely directed toward God and others. Mary Immaculate does not look on herself. This is true humility: not looking on oneself, but looking toward God and others.

Let us remember that this perfection of Mary, the full of grace, is declared by the angel within the walls of her house – not in Nazareth's main square, but there, in hiding, in the greatest humility. In that little house of Nazareth beat the greatest heart that any creature has ever had. Dear brothers and sisters, this is extraordinary news for us! Because the Lord is telling us that to work marvellous deeds, he has no need of grand means and our lofty abilities, but our humility, eyes open to Him, and also open to others. With this annunciation, within the poor walls of a small house, God changed history. Even today, he wants to do great things with us in our daily lives: in our families, at work, in everyday environments. God's grace loves to operate there more than in great historical events. But, I ask myself, do we believe this? Or rather do we think that holiness is a utopia, something for insiders, a pious illusion incompatible with ordinary life?

Let us ask the Madonna for a grace: that she free us from the misleading idea that the Gospel is one thing and life is another; that she enkindle enthusiasm in us for the ideal of sanctity which has nothing to do with holy cards and pictures, but is about living humbly and joyfully, like the Madonna, what happens each day, freed from ourselves, with our eyes fixed on God and the neighbour we meet. Let's not lose heart: The Lord has given everyone the stuff it takes to weave holiness within our everyday life! And when we are assailed by the doubt that we cannot succeed, the sadness of not being adequate, let us allow the Madonna to look on us with her "eyes of mercy", for no one who asked for her help has ever been abandoned!

Christmas is almost upon us. In the Gospel Mary leaves in haste to help her cousin Elizabeth and also to see the miracle that she who was barren is now pregnant. In the same way Mary comes to you and me, in this season to bring her son Jesus Christ to us. In a hidden way she carried Him to Elizabeth but with the help of the Holy Spirit Elizabeth recognises this and proclaims it. Mary is doing the same with us. Her whole purpose is to bring us all to meet her son because only He can help us and give us Joy. Mary is the image of the Church and in every liturgical celebration of the Church Jesus Christ becomes present but especially in the Eucharist because it is there that Jesus Christ passes from death to life. The bread and the wine, which, of themselves, are dead elements, become the body and blood of the Lord. But it is only through the presence of the Church that this can happen. Just as Jesus was conceived in the womb of Mary when “she believed the promise made to her by the Lord”, so it is on Mary’s faith that Jesus was conceived and He can be conceived in our hearts by the same faith. This means to believe that the promises made to you will be fulfilled. At Baptism you were promised eternal life and that eternal life begins already in this life. All of us, due to our sins and distractions experience ‘death’ and come to each celebration a bit dead, so to speak, but it is through the Eucharistic celebration that Jesus Christ risen from the dead raises us up also with Him. As you make your final preparations for Christmas ask the Lord for an open heart to do His will no matter what it may involve and to be without fear so that the Lord’s plan for you may be accomplished, just as it was in Mary and in Elizabeth. Finally, there are immense graces on offer every Christmas, please ask for these and they will be given in accordance with the will of the Lord. May all of you have a wonderful Christmas and may the Lord be born in our hearts and families. Fr. Paul
